Qual-eFire boasts the world's most comprehensive ARFF competency framework comprising over 1,900 technical competencies, skills, and performance criteria. This competency framework is meticulously developed and continually updated by a team of experienced professionals to ensure it meets the latest regulatory requirements and industry best practices. The company also offers a library of over 90 online training courses designed by industry experts and carefully mapped to each technical competency, with a further 40 courses in development.

Through this partnership, OLC will leverage Qual-eFire's expertise in ARFF training to enhance its training offerings for aviation professionals worldwide. OLC's customers will now have access to an even broader range of aviation training courses, including the world's most comprehensive ARFF competency framework and online training courses tailored to specific technical competencies.

"We are excited to partner with Qual-eFire to expand our aviation training portfolio," said Eddie Ragauskas, Director of the ACI Online Learning Centre . "With this partnership, we can offer our customers a comprehensive ARFF competency framework to enhance their safety and operational excellence. Our goal is to provide the highest quality training solutions to the aviation industry, and this partnership is a significant step towards achieving that goal."

"Qual-eFire is thrilled to partner with ACI Online Learning Centre to bring our ARFF competency framework and training courses to a wider audience," said Peter McMahon, Director of Qual-eFire. "We believe that our expertise in ARFF training, coupled with ACI Online Learning Centre's global reach and reputation in the aviation industry, will create a winning combination. We look forward to working together to improve the safety and competency of aviation professionals worldwide."
